

Urban sophistication. Eclectic soulfulness. High vibrational storytelling. All of this and more aptly describe the talents and breadth of singer, songwriter, and producer Sii (pronounced “See”) Sii has been seen on BET JAMS, has collaborations with GRAMMY nominated and PLATINUM selling producers, (JReidtheproducer, Yonatan Watts, Soul Soundz, Ricky Hoodrich + more) and has touched the hearts of thousands of crowds.

The talents and breadth of singer, songwriter, and producer Sii (pronounced “See”), the pseudonym chosen to reflect the deep desire for both she and those around her to feel seen, heard, and understood—belies her young age. Yet it’s just that youthful, unabashed, yet mature approach to life and her work that resonates with and draws listeners in.

Through her cool, poised vocal approach, Sii’s passionate recordings convey a spectrum of emotions birthed through physical and verbal abuse, homelessness, and a troubling health challenge, all of which she has bravely transformed into anthems of power and purpose.

The journey has been both arduous and enlightening. The artist’s background includes childhood exposure to music by her composer/producer father, writing and recording of her first song in elementary school, and developing of a truly unique singing style in her middle and high school choirs. While enrolled in the Dallas Austin Foundation music program in Atlanta, Sii was propelled into a new focus - producing. This experience, coupled with her musical background, sparked a flame of desire within to pursue music professionally.

From there she began gravitating towards independent artists who had a deep reverence for music legends, and has since been influenced by an array of iconic figures across multiple genres and generations, such as Hip-Hop’s Goodie Mob, Rhythm & Blues’ Lauryn Hill, Pop’s Michael Jackson, and Punk Rock’s Avril Lavigne, just to name a few. Armed with this amalgamation of musical flavors and styles, Sii has always pushed creative boundaries, all while curating a striking sound that is all her own.

On her debut EP, “Down the Rabbit Hole”; a gorgeously cosmic and emotionally raw body of work, the feather-voiced singer takes listeners along her life journey in real time. The lead single, “Part One: Help Me,” an ode to forgiveness, and her official music video for “Smoke Break” both open the floodgates for an experience that is equal parts tough and vulnerable. Sii also possesses a distinctive ability to create a captivating ambience that is always encouraging, uplifting, empowering, and inspiring, deeply resonating with present and no doubt future generations. She took a break from releasing while she was in school for a Masters Degree in Entertainment Business.

She released new single, “Mesmerized” in November 2025. It’s been chosen as Top 10 songs under 10k and was apart of the GRAMMYU’s Rest & Repeat PLAYLIST. She re-released it on March 12,2026.Her authentic, free-flowing, exuberant presence and artistry have led to packed house, live performances at numerous venues throughout the Los Angeles area (where she lived for a time) including The Highlander Club and Café Club Fais Do-Do, Bonefire ATL with her own band, and at colorful Pop-up shows both there and in her current hometown of Atlanta. Sii has also been featured on the Accelerated Radio program on iHeart Radio! She even started a podcast of her own, “Vibes Behind The Verse Podcast Show”, highlighting many creatives with the spotlight on all mediums of art.

An EP and new album is currently under production for release in late 2026, yet her fans are already clamoring for a teaser track in which to immerse themselves before the big reveal.

To learn more about Sii, check out her website: 🌐 Sii .:. & . You can also follow her on social media via @siyoulooking.